

Congratulations!

Your Web hosting account is now active.

Please follow the instructions you have received concerning your Web Hosting account to begin publishing your Web site to the Internet. Important information about your server, email, and other features of your Web hosting account are covered in your confirmation email.

You may now begin designing Web pages and placing them on your server. The page you are currently viewing is the index.html file in your server's /www/htdocs/ directory. Simply overwrite this page with your own index.html page when you are ready to publish your site.
